To build a society where every labourer—man or woman—lives and works with dignity, safety, and opportunity.

DTT envisions a future where women are empowered, workers are respected, and rural communities thrive through collective action, education, and sustainable livelihoods.

It is a vision rooted in equality, self-reliance, and social justice—where even the poorest have the power to transform their lives and contribute meaningfully to a Vikashit Odisha and Vikashit Bharat.

About DTT

The Dattopant Thengadi Trust (DTT) is a non-profit organization founded on 19th March 2021, with a clear mission: to uplift the lives of labourers and women, especially those from economically disadvantaged backgrounds.

Our core responsibility is to protect the rights and dignity of workers, while creating a healthy and productive work environment. We believe that empowering women is not just a goal—it is the key to solving many social and economic challenges. When women thrive, families prosper, communities grow stronger, and the nation moves forward.

To achieve this, DTT actively promotes and manages Women Self-Help Groups (WSHGs). These groups help women build financial independence, develop leadership skills, and contribute meaningfully to their communities. Inspired by the vision of Bharat Ratna Shri Atal Bihari Vajpayee, who declared 2001 as the Year of Women Empowerment, we continue to carry forward his legacy by strengthening SHGs as engines of rural development and economic progress.

Our journey is aligned with the vision of a Vikashit Odisha and Vikashit Bharat—a developed, inclusive, and empowered India.
